

ToddlerTalk

Resource Libraries to Explore

ToddlerTalk is a framework for supporting toddler's language and social emotional development. ToddlerTalk strategies are built off of previous work by the National Center for Pyramid Model Innovations (NCPMI), Pyramid Resources for Infant- Toddler Social Emotional Development Model (PRISM), and Vanderbilt KidTalk. Explore some resources from these teams below!

- The Pyramid Resources for Infant & Toddler Social Emotional Development Model \(PRISM\) website includes information about ongoing research and trainings as well as a large resource library with great handouts, visuals, and example activities for a variety of topics, including strategies for helping toddlers calm down, activity ideas to promote peer interactions, and tips for teaching feeling words!
- The National Center for Pyramid Model Innovations website includes a wealth of resources, including an introduction to the Pyramid Model, free webinars for teachers, coaches, and administrators, and a resource library with classroom visuals, implementation tools and guides, video examples, and tip sheets for classrooms and families.
- The Vanderbilt Kidtalk website includes information about previous and ongoing Enhanced Milieu Teaching projects, as well as resources for families, researchers, practitioners, and an expanding library for classrooms! You can find strategy tip sheets to support children's play and engagement with toys and materials, and children's language and communication in the classroom.