writing goals to include total communication instead of just verbal

14:22:57 From kathleen mahurin tsvi to Everyone:
I'm going to monitor myself for behaviors where I might be encouraging masking. Thank you for that awareness.

14:23:26 From Cassie Owens she/her to Everyone:
I work with Deaf and Hard of hearing kiddos in 0-3 services and most of the outcomes we write are related to specific conversation skills (turn taking, etc). Definitely going to be adjusting this to be more neuroaffirming!

14:23:27 From Marybeth Fowler to Everyone:
Kathleen, great point for me too

14:23:58 From kathleen mahurin tsvi to Everyone:
I'm currently asking students to share with me how they do things at home (like manners and interactions) that help me understand their perspective.

14:24:03 From gkenniston (Gerella Matheos) to Everyone:
I meet families and children where they are and build around their communication system. I get it

14:24:11 From Karen Nelson- Boost Collaborative (Whitman/Garfield county) to Everyone:
there is a movement within insurance companies to expand beyond ABA as approved therapies covered.

14:24:12 From Corynne S to Everyone:
I use child-led activities and educate parents about accepting a variety of forms of communication and self-regulation.

14:24:27 From Jan Dosh to Everyone:
Being mindful of strategies that promote or look like "masking" is something I commit to seek change in practice.

14:25:12 From kathleen mahurin tsvi to Everyone:
Corynne S, that sounds like fun and rich experiences for noticing a person's communication and self-regulation.

14:25:12 From Rachel Weiser to Everyone:
Groups that encourage meeting the children where they are at and celebrating their interests

14:25:15 From Mary Turcotte to Everyone:
I accept any joining in (but really foster families to follow their children's lead ...). Change: engaging in conversations with families about the concept of neurodiversity and how it relates to respectful intervention (with an emphasis on "there IS intervention happening even though it may look different).

14:25:19 From Srishti (she/her/hers) to Everyone:

14:25:34 From IECC Technical Support to Everyone:
I may have spelled that wrong but hopefully helpful

14:25:34 From Ashley Davis to Everyone:
I use lots of songs for encouragement of doing things, such as the clean up song, songs about feelings and to help calm down, etc. I never had thought about using music to help with pronunciation until this session. I love the idea of using music and changing some lyrics to fit with how an individual feels or making the song apply to them. My kids both LOVE music and making their own music.

14:26:13 From Kimberlee Turner to Everyone:

This has been very enlightening for me as a former ABA Therapist. Thank you for taking the time to do this!

Thank you all, that will be something I change in my language. I think I default to using Autism Spectrum Disorder, to explain how it is such a spectrum, but I feel like I can start using Autism, and Neurodivergent, and explain to families that many people with Autism don't see themselves as having a disorder, so it's often preferred to NOT use that language. LOVE all this learning, thank you!
